Good Luck on Your Exam

Dear _____,

Thank you for applying and good luck on your ANCC Certification exam!

Friendly reminder:

Upon successfully meeting eligibility for the certification specialty that you are applying for (usually an average of 3 weeks from application submission), ANCC will send you an Authorization to Test Notice (ATT) via email. From the date of the ATT notification, you will have 120 days to make an appointment with Prometric to take your certification test. Unfortunately, you will not be able to schedule an appointment prior to receiving your ATT notice or after the expiration date on your ATT notice.

Please schedule your certification exam as soon as possible for Prometric to accommodate your preferred date and time. This will allow you the flexibility to schedule your certification examination based on specific date/time preferences or other needs. It will not be advisable to wait until near the end of the eligibility period to schedule your exam as this may limit the testing appointments made available to your preferences.

Clinicians can only use the Success Pays code 2 times per each certification specialty.

Be sure to follow the ANCC Certification Facebook Page and inform the team once you become ANCC certified if you would like a Facebook Shoutout!

Sincerely,
